LEXELL

Suspended stone picker

LEXELL is the answer to those users with small farms or fields containing relatively few stones and need to remove them in a simple and economical way. It is a variant of the DYMANTIA stone picker, with only the rake.

The rake is hitched to the hydraulic arms and the third point of the tractor, is hydraulically operated, picks up stones up to 500 kg and once full, it is emptied at the edge of the field.

“Economical solution for stones”
